THE SHOOTING OF GOEBEL

The Subject of Discussion at the Nation's Capitol.

ALABAMA POLITICAL SITUATION.

Senator Morgan Likely to be Re-elected—The Lieutenant Brumby Bill. Other Washington News.

Special to the Telegram.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 1—At the capitol, but little was talked about on Wednesday other than the attempted assassination of Goebel. In the house of representatives during the day members formed in little groups in the lobbies to talk about this affair, and in the house itself the members could be heard discussing the event and the political aspects of it. Of course all the members on both sides of the house express the deep abhorrence of the attempted murder. As a rule it is difficult to get the members of the Kentucky delegation or the leaders outside of the state delegation to talk about the political part of the affair. It is agreed, however, that the attempt will hasten the democrats to seat Goebel as governor, and as the Federal administration has practically decided not to interfere in Kentucky affairs, it is difficult to see how the republicans can very long prevent the democrats from taking control of affairs in the state.

Ex Senator Blackburn was still in Washington Wednesday morning. After the news of the assassination was received Mr. Blackburn was besieged with callers, many representatives and senators from other states calling on him to learn his own version of the affair. He was contemplating returning at once to the state, so as to be on the ground and to be near Goebel, who is his personal friend and for whom he has felt a deep admiration.

Senator Lindsay and Representative Berry, the latter a democrat, both of whom supported Governor Taylor, gave out statements Wednesday, in which they deplore the crime, but say that they do not see how Governor Taylor can in any manner be held accountable, and do not think it should affect the merits of the gubernatorial contest.

Mr. E. W. Barrett, for many years the well known Washington correspondent of the Atlanta Constitution, and now the editor of the Birmingham Age-Herald, one of the best known papers in the south, has been in Washington for several days, on business before the departments. Mr. Barrett is stopping at the Hotel Raleigh, and was seen the other day. In speaking of the senatorial situation in Alabama he said that in his opinion Senator Morgan would be re-elected. Governor Johnston, he thinks, tries to emulate Senator Tillman, but he says the governor falls short, as he has neither the personal magnetism nor the brains of the South Carolina Senator. The people of Alabama, says Mr. Barrett, still admire and love Senator Morgan, who has served the state so long and faithfully in the United States Senate, and he thinks his defeat would be a disappointment to the state.

The senate having passed the bill for a pension to Mrs. Brumby, the mother of Lieutenant Brumby, who was Admiral Dewey's flag lieutenant, the measure goes to the house of representatives for action. Senator Taliaferro, of Florida, engineered the measure through the senate. There seems to be no doubt but that the committee on pensions in the house will act promptly and report the bill with a favorable recommendation.

The house passed a bill yesterday introduced by Representative Rixey, setting apart a portion of the Arlington estate for experimental agricultural purposes, and giving the department of agriculture jurisdiction over said portion of the estate.

Mr. W. M. Giles, a well known citizen of Charlotte, N. C., was in Washington yesterday, being in the city on business, stopping at the National Hotel. He will be here for several days

Mr. Otey, of Virginia, will make an effort in the house to secure early consideration of his bill, which has been reported unanimously from the committee to which it was referred, for the relief of Mrs. Clara M. Ashby, the widow of the late Consul W. W. Ashby, who was drowned while stationed at Colon.

Mr. A. B. High, of Greensboro, is in Washington on personal business.

The price is very small so let a big crowd be on hand to see the instrument that it took Mr. Edison so many years to complete. The performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock. The house will be thoroughly heated, so be on hand, so as not to miss a single selection. Tickets on sale at Grissom & Fordham's drug store.

DR. WERTENBAKER

In High Point—The Smallpox Situation—News Notes.

TELEGRAM BUREAU,
HIGH POINT, Feb. 1

Dr. Wertenbaker, the government expert arrived here last night and this morning went out to see the several victims of smallpox. At 10 o'clock he made a talk in the opera house to a large crowd explaining the smallpox situation and the best course to pursue where the disease is prevalent. He said that all the cases among the negroes were genuine and that several of the two were suspects he couldn't say positively that they had the disease. There are only two cases that he wouldn't recommend vaccination those that have had the disease and those that are dead. The talk had a good effect on a majority of the people, I think, especially with that are not inclined to believe short of a miracle, and then the will have their doubts about the same it is settled that High Point is infected with smallpox. Wertenbaker says so, and he knows his business. If he didn't, do you suppose for one moment that he could occupy such a responsible position under the government? So let all you chronic grumblers from now, henceforth and forever, keep quiet and dont make a donkey of yourselves. Dr. Wertenbaker left on the belated 11:56 train this morning.

C. C. Cosby, a colored tonsorial artist, doing business on South Main street has sold out his fixtures to J. H. Hoffman, the deal being consummated last evening.

A. C. Johnson, of Richmond, was here yesterday on business.

H B Rivers, of Chattanooga, was here last night.

Will Snow came home last night from the A. & M College, Raleigh.

J. L Williams, of Knoxville, was here yesterday.

Rev. Mr Hall, of Iowa, is visiting his cousin, Mrs. M. A. Tate.

Uncle Bob Gurley is able to be out, after an illness of several weeks.

O. W. Carr passed through this morning enroute to Greensboro.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Worth, of Worthville, passed through this morning en route north

Two new cases of smallpox were found yesterday instead of one. The negroes names are George Clayton and Wm. Gray and live on the old cotton factory row, as stated in yesterday's paper.

The Enterprise is keeping the town posted on the smallpox situation by issuing daily bulletins.

Frank W. Dunbar went south on the vestibule last night.

Mr. Mitchell who works at the shirt factory, was taken away from his work yesterday on account of being broken out on his face. It is not thought he has smallpox.

Our venerable friend, D. L. Clark, has just finished a fine oil portrait of the late Rev Alexander Robbins, a Methodist Protestant preacher of Guilford county, which does Mr. Clark much credit. Mr. Robbins was a father-in-law of our townsman, Mr R. J. Bell and for him the picture was painted. For several years Mr. Clark has voluntarily painted pictures of prominent southern men and presented them to the Guilford Battle Ground Company and the many thousands that go to this historic battlefield year by year on the Fourth Day of July have viewed with much pleasure and interest the productions of his brush.

WHITTAKER NOT AFRAID.

He tells of Two Men Who Can Clear Him if They Will

Louisville, Jan 31—Harland Whittaker, who was suspected of having shot Senator Goebel and who was brought here last night from Frankfort, was somewhat nervous today, as a result of the excitement, but he still persisted in asserting his innocence and said he had no fear of the outcome of his trial.

"I did not shoot Mr Goebel," said he, "and never thought of doing so. I was there simply as a friend of Taylor to see with the others that he had justice done him.

"I was sitting in the state house when we heard the shots fired. Two other men were there, and they were talking about insurance. One of them had a brown beard, and if they will, they can come forward and clear me. But I am not afraid, for I know I am innocent, and that when the case comes up I will be cleared. They cnot convict an innocent man. They can't show where I shot at Mr. Goebel, and all there is against me is that I had the pistols, but if they arrested everybody in Frankfort who was armed, half the population would be in jail before the day was over."

So many people called at the jail to see Whittaker that Jailer Pflanz ordered him confined in an upper room. No one will be allowed to call on him during the remainder of his confinement, prompted simply by curiosity He will be allowed to see constables and newspaper men, but outsiders are to be shut out.

Men's four dollar high cut tan hunting shoes will be sold for the next ten days at $2 75 and their $3 50 high cut russet and black line at $2.50 at Thacker & Brockmann's.

THE RONEY BOYS.

An Excellent Concert in Prospect at the Academy of Music.

Prof. Henry B. Roney, who will appear at the Academy of Music Thursday evening, February 8th is an accomplished organist and musical director. The Chicago Standard says of him: "Under his magic touch the organ seems to change into an immense orchestra." "Roney's Boys," a title adopted by the lads themselves a few years ago, are in no way related to Mr. Roney. Three of them are from the famous boy choir of Chicago.

The 'Roney's Boys" of the present tour are:

Master Harry Cockrell, a tiny boy of 10 years, who posses a clear and bird-like high soprano voice, reaching to high E with ease.

Master Jam'e Crippen, contralto, a dainty, polished little gentleman of 11 years, who has sung in hundreds of concerts with "Roney's Boys," and has established himself as a favorite in the affection of thousands.

Master Arthur Goff, a 10-year-old cornetist with the style, brilliancy, execution, "triple tongueing," etc., of a professional thrice his age, a musical marvel; and Master Francis Murphy, Jr., high contralto, a nephew of Francis Murphy, whom Prof. Roney succeeded in securing only after repeated effort. These boys, with Blatchford Kavanagh, form a male quartette of charming character and great musical talent.

Reserved seats will be placed on sale Monday at Farlss' drug store. Mr. L. C. Howlett has already sold over 100 tickets to this splendid concert, and will deliver them. Others may secure tickets from him.

LIFE HANGS BY A THREAD.

Goebel Not Expected to Live Through the Day.

POLITICAL SITUATION UNCHANGED

Little Prospect of Republicans Giving Up Their Offices—Democratic Members Will Not Go to London.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1—Goebel passed a very comfortable night but is worse this morning. His pulse increased to 144, temperature 101½, respiration 44. Dr. Welch gives him just one chance in a thousand to live.

The political situation is unchanged. There is little prospect of the republicans yielding their offices, but the legislature may be allowed to meet. It is denied this morning that Gen. Castleman has been appointed adjutant general.

Frankfort, Ky., Feb. 1—Goebel is much worse The head nurse appeared at the sick room door a short time ago and said the hot bath had been abandoned, and hot water bags applied instead. Doctors say he will live for an hour or two, but beyond that can make no prediction.

It is regarded as certain this morning that the democratic members of the legislature will refuse to go to London. Republican members might go there, throwing out the contest for governor. In that case the democratic majority could choose some other meeting place and go through the form of seating Goebel or Beckham, if Goebel dies; then have troops ordered away. It is believed that the court of appeals, which is democratic, would back this majority administration. In reply to the hundreds of telegrams, offering assistance of armed men, pouring in upon democrats, the answer is sent: "Be patient; we'll come out all right"

It appears that the armed soldiers in Frankfort holds at least momentarily the key to the situation. If they continue to obey the orders of Taylor, he will retain the control he now holds. Should they decide otherwise they might seat Goebel men in power. The soldiers are in quandary waiting developments. Many republican office holders said they had no idea of resisting the governor, if they only knew who he was. Other things being equal they will stand by Taylor.

Enormons Expense.

Few people, even thinkers, ever realize the enormous expense attached to an operatic organization and the large amount of money expended in educating and training grand opera artists in addition to the years of hard study and work and strain upon the nervous system. There are several hundred of capable concert singers in the country, but few of them will ever reach the ladder of grand opera fame. No wonder there is so much surprise manifested in the coming to our city of the International Grand Operatic Company of London and New York; as the artists that compose this superb organization are all educated in foreign schools, thousands of dollars having been spent on their education, and in the case of some of the members, years of experience has been added. All are thoroughly qualified to render the exciting roles assumed and those of our citizens who are looking for a rare musical feast should not fail to attend the unqualled performance to be given on Saturday, February 3rd, at the Academy of Music. The company is booked in this vicinity and Managers McAdoo is to be congratulated upon his enterprise in securing it for Greensboro

There is, of course, considerable financial risk assumed in the engagement, but we hope that our citizens will demonstrate their appreciation of this unprecedented event; it being an opportunity which will probably not be offered again for years.

TEXAS ANTI-TRUST LAW.

Monopoly Crusher Went Into Effect Yesterday.

Austin, Jan. 31—The anti-trust law went into effect today. Under its provisions all trusts and monopolies will be forced to leave the state. It also prohibits merchants from buying and selling trust goods of all kinds. One section of the law is directed against the Associated Press, as follows:

"The following corporations, copartnerships, firms or individuals are also adjudged a monopoly and subject to all the pains and penalties provided in this act. Every corporation, copartnership, firm or individual which may gather items of news or press dispatches for sale to newspapers, and which shall refuse to sell such items of news or press dispatches to more than one newspaper to a stated number of inhabitants in any city, town or subdivision of the state of Texas or within a certain radius of territory; every association of newspapers formed for the purpose of exchanging items of news and press dispatches which may require of its members under pain of forfeiting their their membership that they do not sell to or exchange with a newspaper not a member of said association any items of news or press dispatches."

Many of the leading insurance companies now doing business in the state have threatened to withdraw from the state on account of the provisions of the law, which requires them to make affidavit that they do not belong to and rate bureau, either in or outside of Texas.

FIERCE STRUGGLE.

Inspector Gregory's Adventure With a Mail Robber.

We clip the following from the Philadelphia Inquirer, which gives an account of more good work of Mr H. T. Gregory, of Greensboro.

After a fierce struggle in a mail car at 22nd street and Powelton avenue this morning, Postal Inspector Gregory succeeded in arresting W. P Ford, a brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, whom he had detected stealing from the mails. The arrest of Ford was the unexpected result of a plot to discover the thief who recently filched a mail bag and its contents from a Pennsylvania mail car.

It was arranged that the crew which conducted the train when the stealing occurred should be aboard this morning when the cars were run out into the yard to be cleaned. A decoy letter, sealed in a blue envelope, and containing $3 in notes, was placed in a pigeonhole and Inspector Gregory took up his position behind one of the big mail bags to watch.

In a short time W. P Ford, a big train brakeman, entered the car and removed the letter from its place and went out Before Inspector Gregory could follow Ford returned, troubled by fear that some one may have been in the car to see his theft. To make sure, he began a systematic kicking of the bags along the side. Beginning at the door, he gave every bag in turn a sturdy kick until he came to the place where Inspectory Gregory had hidden himself. There seemed to be something solid behind this bag, and Ford kicked with more vigor than before. On the inspector's thighs and shins the blows fell hot and fast. The inspector could stand it no longer, and, leaping from his hiding place, he grabbed Ford by the neck and threw him to the floor.

There they fought furiously until Inspector Holden came on the scene and helped to overpower the thief.

Ford was immediately taken to the yard master's office, where he was searched. The marked money and pieces of the blue envelope were found upon him. He was taken to the Central police station where he confessed his guilt.

Ford, who is thirty-two years old and married, lives at 3922 Cambridge street. He has been a brakeman on the Pennsylvania for ten years.

A SUDDEN SUMMONS

While Preparing to Commence Work Last Night.

A. L. Harris, one of the linotype operators of the Observer, died suddenly last night at 7 15. Though not confined to his room or kept from his work, he had been unwell for a fortnight, complaining repeatedly of pain in his breast. He had been under medical treatment.

Mr. Harris came into the composing room of the Observer shortly before 7 o'clock, apparently well, and walked into the lavatory. A few minutes afterwards one of the other compositors found him lying on the floor, suffering great agony. He was carried into the composing room and a physician was immediately summoned.

Mr. Harris lived twenty minutes. He was conscious until just before he died. He spoke to several of the men—friends of his—who gathered around him, but could give no explanation of his illness. When the physician arrived Mr. Harris asked that relief be given him as soon as possible, but nothing could be done. Heart failure is supposed to have been the cause of death.

He was the son of R. S. Harris, a well known farmer of Culler, near Pilot Mountain. He had been a printer nearly all his life, and was foreman of the Winston Sentinel for a number of years when that paper was edited by J. O Foy. Off and on he has done work for the Observer for some years, but he had been regularly connected with the paper since last March. He was a man of quiet manners and excellent character. At all times he was faithful and conscientious in his duties. He was about 32 years old, and was unmarried. His father was last night advised by telegraph of his death, and the remains will probably be taken to Pilot Mountain this morning for burial.—Charlotte Observer.

London, Feb. 1—The Boers are going to flood Ladysmith. The town will be turned into a lake, and while the waters surge into bomb-proofs and cellars, Boer guns will play upon the doomed town The move was not anticipated here and has caused a sensation. The Boers expect to accomplish this by damming the Klip river, some miles below town, and send the waters back into the town.

CONGRESSMAN WHITE'S INSULT.

In 1898 the negro editor Manly stirred the blood of every white man in the state by his infamous assault upon the poor white women of the state, for which he was made to find a home elsewhere. This outrage by Manly and its result seems to have made no impression upon the negro who holds the seat in congress intended by the virtuous intelligence of the country for a representative of the people of what now constitutes the Second district in this state. The harangue which White indulged in yesterday, as reported by the Washington correspondent of this paper—intended, no doubt, as a compliment to a crusade of but little better character just made by his colleague, Mr. Linney, is as gross an insult to the white people as was the assault of Manly two years ago.

The moral depravity of members of his own race is flaunted on the floor of congress as a justification of the brutish assaults upon indocent and virtuous white women of the state and the south.

And this is the representative of the 80,000 ignorant creatures whom Senator Pritchard and Senator Butler say must be permitted to exercise the power which votes directed by viciousness as well as ignorance give in the control of affairs in the state and covnty governments. He makes this grossly offensive statement, and not one word of rebuke from Linney.

But the white people will settle the matter in this state, and it will not require a constitutional amendment to end the right of suffrage of those who would inculcate such sentiments or suggest such infamous retaliatory outrages.

Will Butler and Holton bring White home to make speeches in their cause?—Raleigh Post.

BRYAN AND THE POPULISTS

Response to Request for Statement as to His Political Position.

Lawrence, Miss., Jan. 31—W. J. Bryan was questioned today with reference to the telegram which Milton Park, editor of the Southern Mercury, and chairman of the national committee of the middle-of-the road populists, sent him, requesting a statement in regard to his political position.

The substance of the telegram was that parties claiming to represent Nebraska populists are submitting to southern populists a proposition that Mr. Bryan be first nominated for president by them, with a populist for a running mate. Mr. Bryan immediately wrote across the face of the telegram the words: "No one has any authority to speak for me on any subject," but he made no statement.

TOUR OF BRYAN, LENTZ AND ALTGELD

Portland, Me., Jan. 31—W. J. Bryan was the guest of the democratic club tonight, at a banquet in the city hall. Mr Bryan, with Congressman Lentz, of Ohio, and ex Governor Altgeld, of Illinois, left Boston early this morning, each speaking at a mass meeting in the city hall, at Lawrence at noon. Mr. Bryan appeared on the rear platform of the car at Haverhill for a short speech to about 1,000 persons, and also shook hands with most of those in his immediate vicinity, receiving a bouquet in exchange.

A PRECIOUS PAIR OF DEFAMERS

Linney and White Befoul the Name of Their Native State.

Washington, Jan. 31—Congressman Linney, for the purpose of prejudicing North Carolina election cases now before the house, made a most partisan and violent attack upon the registration laws of the state in a speech delivered today. For more than an hour he poured out abuse on the heads of the people of his state. The ground of his contention was, that as the ballot is abridged lawlessness becomes more prevalent. The ballot, he claimed, was the safety valve of the republic. He said that since 1891 there has been a yearly average of 140 lynchings in southern state, but North Carolina had escaped. If the constitutional amendment passed then lynchings and violence would follow. His speech was so violent that the house was in an uproar half the time. Tolbert of South Carolina, Burke of Texas, Dinsmore of Arkansas, and Bartlett of Georgia became involved in a controversy with him. Senator Pritchard came over from the senate and sat near Mr. Linney.

While Linney held the floor he gave way to George H. White to speak the foul calumny that negro assaults upon white women were the fruits of white men's assaults upon negro women, thus putting the white women of North Carolina upon the same plane as negro women.

Linney's speech will react upon him.

GOEBEL IS GOVERNOR.

Sworn In Just Before Nine O'Clock Last Night.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 31—William Goebel was shortly before nine o'clock tonight sworn in as governor of Kentucky and J. C. W. Beckham, a few minutes later took the oath of lieutenant governor. The oath was administered to both men by Chief Justice Hazelrigg of the court of appeals. The plan to make Goebel governor was set in motion early in the afternoon. A statement was prepared saying that the boards which had heard the contests for governor and lieutenant governor had decided in favor of Goebel and Beckham, and that the boards intended to report their findings to the legislature, but that they had been prevented from so doing by the action of Governor Taylor in declaring the legislature adjourned.

The statement then goes on to say that the members of the legislature were driven from place to place by the militia and threatened with arrest whenever they attempted to hold a meeting. It was declared the belief of all the signers of the statement that Goebel and Beckham were the legally elected governor and lieutenant governor, and each man, as he signed the paper, announced that he voted for the adoption of the majority report of the contest boards, which declared Goebel and Beckham to be the men rightfully entitled to the office.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

The Skill of a Mouse.

One day a naturalist lay motionless on a fallen log in the forest and silently watched an animal at play in the grass near by. This was a large, brown backed mouse, a meadow mouse, that had come out from his home under the log and when tired of play had sat up to make his toilet. Using his forepaws as hands, the mouse combed the white fur on his breast and licked himself smooth and sleek. Satisfied at length with his appearance he began to search for food.

He did not have far to go, for a few stalks of wheat grew among the thick weeds near at hand. The mouse was so large that he could probably have bent the stalk down and brought the grain within reach. If not, he could certainly have climbed the stalk. He did not try either of these plans, however, for these were not his ways. Sitting up very straight, he bit through the stalk as high up as he could reach. The weeds were so thick that the straw could not fall its full length, and the freshly cut end settled down upon the ground, with the straw still erect and the grain out of reach. The mouse again bit the straw in two, and again the upper portion settled down. In this way he bit off five lengths of straw before he could bring the grain within reach of his paws. These forepaws were very skillful little hands, and he deftly husked a grain and ate it, sitting erect and holding it to his mouth as naturally as a boy would hold an apple.—Our Animal Friends.

Danger of Being Too Obliging.

The other evening, while attending a lecture, Howard Tomkins observed, sitting three seats in front, a man whom he recognized as an intimate acquaintance. Tomkins requested the person who occupied the seat next to him to lean forward and poke the other individual with his stick. The polite stranger at once obligingly did so.

When the disturbed person turned his head a little to find out the cause of the poke, Tomkins discovered his mistake—that he was not the person he had taken him for.

Fixing his attention steadfastly on the lecturer and affecting complete unconsciousness of the whole affair, Tomkins left the obliging man with the stick to settle with the other for disturbance. There was, as may be readily imagined, a ludicrous and embarrassing scene, during the whole of which Tomkins evidenced the profoundest possible interest in the lecture.

At last the man with the stick asked in aggrieved and indignant tones:

"Didn't you tell me, sir, to poke that man with my stick?"

"I certainly did," replied the unabashed Tomkins.

"I wanted to see if you would poke him or not," was the audacious answer.—Pearson's Weekly.

SALT RHEUM CURED BY Johnston's Sarsaparilla

QUART BOTTLES.

JUST SEEN IN TIME.

Slight Skin Eruptions are a Warning of Something More Serious to Come. The Only Safe Way is to Heed the Warning. Johnston's Sarsaparilla is the Most Powerful Blood Purifier Known.

Nature, in her efforts to correct mistakes, which mistakes have come from careless living, or it may be from ancestors, shoots out pimples, blotches and other imperfections on the skin, as a warning that more serious troubles (perhaps tumors, cancers, erysipelas or pulmonary diseases) are certain to follow if you neglect to heed the warning and correct the mistakes.

Many a lingering, painful disease and many an early death has been avoided simply because these notes of warning have been heeded and the blood kept pure by a right use of JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA.

Miss Abbie J. Rande, of Marshall, Mich., writes:

"I was cured of a bad humor after suffering with it for five years. The doctors and my friends said it was salt rheum. It came out on my head, neck and ears, and then on my whole body. I was perfectly raw with it. What I suffered during those five years, is no use telling. Nobody would believe me if I did. I tried every medicine that was advertised to cure it. I spent money enough to buy a house. I heard JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA highly praised. I tried a bottle of it. I began to improve right away, and when I had finished the third bottle I was completely cured. I have never had a touch of it since. I never got any thing to do me the least good till I tried JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA. I would heartily advise all who are suffering from humors or skin disease of any kind to try it at once. I had also a good deal of stomach trouble, and was run down and miserable, but JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA made me all right."

The blood is your life and if you keep it pure and strong you can positively resist disease or face contagion fearlessly. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA never fails. It is for sale by all druggists, in full quart bottles at only one dollar each.

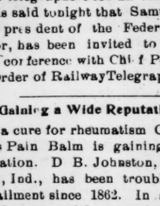
WINE OF CARDUI

WOMEN WHO WORK.



St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13.
Though only 19 years old, I suffered from pains and female troubles two years. Last spring I got so bad I had to quit work. I had to support myself, and could not afford a high-priced doctor. I got one bottle of Wine of Cardui and that made me feel better. Have now used several bottles and am well. My mother used the Wine for Change of Life and was greatly relieved.
MISS MARGARET WALSH.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

Many girls and women find it necessary to earn their own living in various kinds of employment. Their work is often so hard and confining that the health breaks down. Their delicate constitutions are unfitted for tiresome tasks. Weakness nearly always makes its appearance in the peculiarly delicate womanly organs. Constant standing on the feet, and coming and going at the beck of a superintendent or foreman, induces falling of the womb, leucorrhœa, headache and backache. The pay of women workers is often so notoriously small that when sickness comes they have no money to engage skillful physicians. To them Wine of Cardui is truly a blessing. It cures them of their ills at a small cost, and they can act as their own physicians. No doctor can do as much for "female troubles" as Wine of Cardui.

PINKED THE TEN SPOT.

A Trick at Cards That Puzzled Those Who Witnessed It.

"I saw a man do a trick with cards once," said Godfrey Ashton of Atlanta, "which, although he assured me was wholly a trick and that there was no second sight or mind reading connected with it, has always rested in an unexplained condition in my mind.

"There were four of us at supper, and the man in question sent for a pack of cards, and, handing them to the man next him, told him to select a card in his mind; not to take it from the pack, but to tell the other two men what card it was. He was then to shuffle the pack and pass it to the other two men, who were each to thoroughly shuffle it. The last man was then to place it on the floor.

"In the meantime a large napkin had been tightly bound over the magician's eyes and his dress coat hung over his face with the tails tied under his chin, so that his head was to all intents and purposes in a bag. He, by his direction, was led to the pack of cards and his hand placed upon it. He then proceeded to scatter the cards about until they covered a rough circle of three or four feet in diameter. He called for a knife, and, bringing it sharply down, drove it through and affixed one of the scattered cards. Removing his headgear, he asked what card my friend had chosen. The answer being the ten of diamonds, he turned the knife toward us, and there, sure enough, was the ten of diamonds transfixed upon the point.

"He swore it was a trick, but for the life of me I cannot see how it was done. None of us was in collusion with him. I am sure the cards were not a fake pack, and I am equally certain that he was so blindfolded that it was wholly impossible for him to see. Yet he accomplished it exactly as I tell you."—New York Tribune.

HELPED DEWEY OUT.

How a Russian Baroness Prompted Him to a Compliment.

Dewey once attended a wedding breakfast at which the affable Baroness de Struve, wife of the Russian minister at that time, was present. Dewey had met this famous woman several times before. The facial plainness of the baroness was quite beyond belief, but she was one of the most brilliant, lovable and kindly women ever elected to guide the social affairs of the diplomatic corps in Washington. A lady who overheard it tells of an amusing passage which the baroness and Dewey, who, if memory serves, was then a commander, had at this particular wedding breakfast. "Referring to leather," said the baroness amiably after some playful remark as to the spick and span polish of Dewey's sword belt—he was in dress uniform—"the most remarkable bit of Russian leather in the world is my face."

Dewey was always a quick thinker, but this stalled him.

"Madam," he said after a pause, "I am but a rough sailorman, and this is a heavy demand which you make upon me. I am not equal to the emergency."

"Of course," said the baroness, tapping him with her fan, "I should have to consider you hopelessly rude were you to agree with me. But you can preserve your neutrality—naval officers are taught to do that, are they not—by telling me what really fine eyes I have. They are fine, are they not?"

Thus assisted, Dewey rose to the occasion. The baroness' eyes were, in truth, magnificent.—Washington Post.

Peculiar to Boiler Makers.

"I noticed a peculiarity about a certain class of men not long ago," remarked a life insurance agent, "the cause of which I can't explain. My business not long ago carried me into one of the large boiler making shops in Memphis, and amid the din of the riveting I tried to talk to one of the men. I raised my voice to the loudest pitch possible, but he was unable to hear me. Finally he said, 'Speak low and I can hear you.' I found he was right. But the evening of the same day I saw the man at his home and found that there, where there was no noise, he could not hear me at all when I spoke in a moderate tone. I had to raise my voice to a very high pitch in order to be understood.

"This was not only the case with this man, but I noticed the peculiarity in all of the other boiler makers I had any dealings with."—Memphis Scimitar.

Dan Rice's First Circus Tumble.

"Did you ever hear of the joke which got Dan Rice, the most famous of all the circus clowns, his first job under the canvas?" asked an old timer.

"No. What was it?"

"Dan, while still in his teens, applied to a circus manager for a position.

"'What salary do you want?' asked the manager.

"'Eight hundred dollars a night,' replied Dan.

"'Tell you what I'll do,' said the manager.

"'Well, speak quick,' returned Dan. 'I'm losing time.'

"'I'll give you $4 a week.'

"'All right,' said Dan. 'It's a go.'"—Atlanta Journal.

Strength of Insects.

If man were to emulate the common flea, a jump over the dome of St Paul's would be a trifle to him. If he were as strong as the common horn beetle, he would be able to pick up and carry away two railroad trucks, each loaded with five tons of coal. If he could build like the African termites, quite an ordinary house would overlook the top of Ben Nevis. If he could run as rapidly as one of the small hunting spiders, he could spring a quarter of a mile without trouble and run at the rate of 24 miles a minute!—London Standard.

C. E. Holton, druggist, guarantees every bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and will refund the money to any one who is not satisfied after using two-thirds of the contents. This is the best remedy in the world for la grippe, coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough and is pleasant and safe to take. It prevents any tendency of a cold to result in pneumonia.

The weather is still cold—it will soon be warmer.

Manager Martin, of the Pierson drug store, informs us that he is having a great run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He sells five bottles of that medicine to one of any other kind, and it gives great satisfaction. In these days of la grippe there is nothing like Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to stop the cough, heal up the sore throat and lungs and give relief in a very short time. The sales are growing and all who try it are pleased with its prompt action.—South Chicago Daily Calumet. For sale by C. E. Holton, druggist.

Oh, the Pain of Rheumatism!

Rheumatism often causes the most intense suffering. Many have for years vainly sought relief from this disabling disease, and are to-day worse off than ever. Rheumatism is a blood disease, and Swift's Specific is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which can reach such deep-seated diseases.

A few years ago I was taken with inflammatory Rheumatism, which became so intense that I was for weeks unable to walk. I tried several prominent physicians and took their treatment faithfully, but was unable to get the slightest relief. In fact, my condition seemed to grow worse, the disease spread over my entire body, and from November to March I suffered agony. I tried many patent medicines, but none relieved me. Upon the advice of a friend I decided to try S. S. S. Before allowing me to take it, however, my guardian, who was a chemist, analyzed the remedy, and pronounced it free of potash or mercury. I felt so much better after taking two bottles, that I continued the remedy, and in two months I was cured completely. The cure was permanent, for I have never since had a touch of Rheumatism though many times exposed to damp and cold weather.

Train Despatcher Charles D Thornton has been transferred from Asheville to the Norfolk division of the Southern, and this week he and his family will remove to Greensboro, which will be his headquarters.—Salisbury Sun.

A cow with a negro boy attached to the fly brush end of her caudal appendage created considerable amusement near the depot this morning. The cow ignored the existence of the boy in the eccentricities of her manoeuvers. Little things like railroad tracks and locomotives did not phase the cow. Two friends came to the aid of the man at the helm, one grabbed one ear one another. These, with the man steering, finally started up the street.

Herrmann the Great.

Of "Solaret," the bewitching dancer with "Herrmann the Great" the world's famous prestidigitateur, who appears at the Academy of Music next Tuesday evening, February 6th, the New York Journal of a recent date said:

Since La Loie Fuller burst upon the theatrical horizon in a riot of colors and fantastic movement, there has never been a serpentine dancer that so completely carried away a theatreful of people as the young girl "Solaret," did. In the first place she has a remarkably pretty face and a perfect figure. In the next her dancing is not only graceful but is accomplished with the ease of absolute spontaneity. It is evidently no trouble to her to dance and keep the yards and yards of diaphonous whirling and flying in any direction she desires. A more beautiful vision than the handsome dancer in the midst of her skilfully contrived lights and breathlike clouds of lace could hardly be imagined. She has a number of effects never seen on a New York stage before, and her whole performance may be called original in the true sense of the term.

Knows a Good Thing.

T. G. Mays, of Lexington, while doing some carpenter work several days ago, a nail glanced his eye and damaged it a great deal. Mr. Mays came to Greensboro immediately to see Dr. Thames, who makes a specialty of the eye, and had him to operate on it. It was thought he would lose the sight of the eye entirely, but Dr. Thames thinks by proper care, the sight may be only be partially lost. We see from the Lexington Dispatch this week that Mr. Mays is getting along nicely.

This advertisement may not convince you, but if you will come and see for yourself we can convince you that our shoe prices are way down. We have too many shoes in stock and have made prices extremely low to reduce the stock.

Marriage Last Night.

Last night at the home of C. E. Heywood, on Bellvue street, Mr. John M. Gulliohon, of Fredericksburg, Va, was married to Miss Cornelia J. Mitchell, of Greensboro, Rev. C. E. Hodgin officiating. A few friends of the bride and groom were present. After the ceremony, a bountiful repast was served.

He Fooled the Surgeons.

All doctors told Renick Hamilton, of West Jefferson, Ohio, after suffering 18 months from rectal fistula, he would die unless a costly operation was performed; but he cured himself with five boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, the surest pile cure on earth, and the best salve in the world. 25 cents a box Sold by C. E Holton, druggist.

Sheds at the Station.

Frank Milburn, of Charlotte, architect for the Southern Railroad, is here today looking at the umbrella sheds with a view to making some changes. It seems the sheds are too near the tracks for the freight cars, and prevent the brakemen from getting up to the top. The change will be slight so as not to expose passengers to the weather.
